THE DIAMOND DOLLAR

THE FASCINATING MYTH CONNECTED WITH THE COIN OF 1804.

It Is Declared to Be a Fake, as the Government Never Issued Such a Coin—Other Instances of Curious Fraud Practiced Upon Collectors.

A sprucely dressed young fellow, with an air of badly suppressed excitement walked into a secondhand book store and curio shop on Marietta street Saturday night and laid a silver dollar on the show case.

"What is that worth?" he said to the proprietor.

The man behind the counter examined the coin with an imperturbable countenance. "One dollar," he replied.

"But, man alive!" almost screamed the visitor. "Don't you see the date?"

"Certainly. It's 1804."

The visitor fumbled in his pocket and produced a pamphlet "Read that," he said, opening it and putting his finger on a certain page. The paragraph he indicated ran as follows:

"The dollar of 1804, the 'diamond dollar' as it is familiarly termed, is the rarest of all American coins. A very limited number were struck from the dies, and only four are known to be in existence One is owned by the British museum, one by Mr. E. L. Carpenter, a collector of Boston; one by the Illinois Historical society, and one by Mr. V Herbert of Roanoke, Va. The last one sold was bid in for $1,500."

The dealer read this deliberately and assumed a tired expression.

"That is pure bosh," he said. 'In the first place there is no such thing as an 1804 dollar. I mean a genuine one. Of course there are plenty of dollars with 1804 on them, but it was not put there by the mint. If Mr. Herbert of Roanoke or anybody else ever paid $1,500 for such a coin, they were done to the tune of exactly $1,499. There are eight 1804 dollars right here in Atlanta besides this one. Two are in Mr. Abe Fry's safe, Mr. Ed Brown has four and Mr. Williams two. I would bet that there are at least 50 of them in the state of Georgia. Some of the owners know that they are fakes, and some fondly believe that they have a treasure."

"And you say that the government never coined them?" gasped the visitor

"I do. I made special inquiry at the United States treasury department at Washington and was informed that no dollars were issued that year. In the collection of coins there, which is of course complete, there is no 1804 dollar. I know that the myth is widespread, but it is a myth all the same. It was started by unscrupulous dealers, and there is a regular factory in New York for running out these dollars. They simply change the date on an 1807 or an 1809 dollar, both of which are comparatively common. They are then sold by private agents. If they were posted in the catalogues for public sale, the fraud would be quickly denounced, but they are worked off on collectors who think they are getting a snap."

The young man sighed and put his dollar in his pocket. "There must be a good deal of fraud of that kind practiced," he said.

"Yes," replied the dealer, "there is. Take for instance the Greenville (Ala.) 5 cent Confederate stamp. No such a stamp was ever issued, yet you can buy them by the hundred. They bring all the way from $1 to $25 The $1.000 Confederate bill is another example There were exactly seven of these printed, and the plate was then destroyed. It's a long story, but that is the gist of it. One is in the British museum, one in the Astor library at New York and the others are owned by individuals throughout the country, a specimen, by the way, being here in Atlanta. Now, I have had dozens of these bills offered me for sale There are thousands in collections over the world, all spurious, every one of them. In fact, the fraud practiced in that line would fill a volume."

After the young man went out considerably crestfallen, a reporter, who had overheard the conversation, asked whether there were really many American coins that brought very fancy prices.

"Yes," said the dealer "Quite a number There is the 1853 quarter without the arrowheads and rays The quarter with both of these devices on it is common, but without them is exceedingly scarce and worth several hundred dollars A very rare coin is the 1803 half penny, but recently several thousand of them were found in Ohio, and the price has dropped to next to nothing.

"Most people," he continued, "labor under the impression that a coin is valuable simply because it is old. Consequently they will hoard up old pennies, nickels and silver pieces that are really only worth their face value. The premium on a coin is not fixed by its age, but by its scarcity. How do coins become scarce? Heaven only knows! It is a great mystery There are instances of coinage of about equal volume on two consecutive years where specimens from one are as plentiful as blackberries and the other as scarce as hen's teeth. Nobody can explain it—we simply know that it is so. The mysterious disappearance of people which we occasionally read about is not half the enigma that this disappearance of money is It vanishes from circulation, melts apparently into thin air, and all the fancy prices and big premiums of collectors never succeed in bringing it to life again."—Atlanta Constitution.

Death Rate of Miners.

Seeing the conditions under which coal miners work in hot and dust laden atmosphere and their terrible liability to fatal accident, it might naturally be expected that their death rate would be excessively high. As a matter of fact, this is far from being the case. Even when fatal accident is included, their death rate is by no means an excessively high one, and putting accidents aside the death rate from disease alone is exceptionally low, being almost exactly the same as agricultural laborers.—National Popular Review

HOW THE VIRGINIA ELECTION WAS CONDUCTED.

The Washington Post may be considered pretty good authority with regard to election practices in Virginia. A recent issue has the following concerning the manner in which O'Ferrell received his 12,000 majority of the popular vote for Governor

"In Virginia the election is conducted by five men in the polling-room—three judges and two clerks. Four out of the five men are all of one political party, namely, Democratic. These judges are chosen by an electoral board, which is composed of three men, all Democrats, in each county. The one Republican judge or Populist judge is usually selected purposely to be a very weak or corrupt man.

"Now we have the cards stacked, let us see how they are played. First action of the judges is to forbid any voter to stand within fifteen feet of the polls. This is contrary to law, but the judges' law on election day is supreme, they having the power to arrest any one on a trumped-up charge of intimidation. The voting goes on The judges (all except the Republican, who is made to receive and deposit the ballots) spend three-fourths of their time outside of the polls, electioneering. Along about 1 or 2 o'clock the polls, which, by the way, are held in an old vacant house or granary, are closed. The judges go to dinner, leaving the ballot-box with the ballots in it in the polling-room, and sometimes a man is secreted in a closet or attic, who comes out while the judges are dining and slips all the Republican ballots out, substituting Democratic ballots for each one from his well supplied pockets. The people protest against the polls being closed, as there is no provision in the law for it, but the law of the judges is supreme. The judges return; the voting goes on Each Democratic voter is usually given a drink or two of whisky after he votes, 'sub rosa,' as the law is very strict on giving away and selling liquor on election day, but is universally evaded. At sundown the polls are closed, and now for the inside practical workings of this partisan law. After the polls are closed the ballot-box is opened and found to have been stuffed, containing seventeen more ballots than the clerks had names of voters who had voted. The law provides in this kind that one of the judges be blindfolded and draw the excess of ballots from the box. Instead, the Democratic judge is blindfolded, and having carefully left both tickets beforehand, with his eyes shut, now takes his time carefully feeling and picking until he gets out seventeen Populist tickets. The Republican judge protests, but he is ignored and the seventeen tickets destroyed. A tally is kept outside during the day, and the seventeen tickets fraudulently put in the box are proven to be Democratic, and they have picked out seventeen Populist ballots which were legally voted. The count gives the Democrats thirty-four more votes at this precinct than they are entitled to.

"At another precinct the ballot-box was kept entirely out of sight during the day and no one could see whether his ballot was put in the box or not

"Is there any wonder that O'Ferrell is counted in? If any charges are preferred they are brought up before probably a packed Democratic jury, to be tried by a Democratic Commonwealth attorney before a Democratic judge, and technicalities are abundantly found to promptly whitewash the whole affair.

THE OPENING OF CONGRESS.

Congress will convene to-morrow at Washington in regular session It will have much important legislation to look forward to. The new tariff bill will presumably occupy the first place in importance. The measure, it is said, will be complicated by amendments to it looking toward the free coinage of silver. There is also the Hawaiian muddle to be straightened out, and to do which with dignity to the United States and justice to the Sandwich Island people will require the exercise of no inconsiderable amount of diplomatic statesmanship.

President Cleveland's message is awaited with more interest than has for many years been accorded to such a document. It is expected to contain the usual amount of dogmatic platitudes uttered with the air of one self-conscious of being of an order so august as to be emancipated from all liability to err, even upon subjects of which his acquaintance is admitedly limited, and the possibility of startling revelations of superior wisdom is not improbable.

The session is expected to prove a long one and the most exciting for many years.

THE State Agricultural Society has the foundation laid of a splendid exhibit of the resources of Nevada at the Midwinter Fair. With Mr. Yerington as the head of the Commission and ably assisted by Messrs Stoddard and Mulcahy, with, in addition, the prospect of a sufficient amount of money in sight to make the attempt a success, the outlook is favorable that our State need not be ashamed of the showing we will make at Sunset City.

WITH Rothchild running Lombard Street, Lombard Street running Wall Street, Wall Street running John Sherman, John Sherman running the President, the President running Congress, Congress running the people and the people running in debt, it is time to begin to inquire where are we at?

CONVENING OF CONGRESS.

The Coming Session Promises to be an Exciting One.

A YOUNG WOMAN DROWNED.

Drunken Tramps Bother Ashland People.

A YOUNG WOMAN DROWNED.

While Attempting to Ford a River She Meets Her Death.

IONE, December 2.—Wednesday evening at dusk Miss Maggie Welthoff, a young lady twenty-one years of age, was drowned while attempting to cross the Mokelumne river on horseback at the Lancha Plana ford. She lived with her parents on the Calaveras side and but a few hundred yards from the river.

She was in the habit of riding across to Lancha Plana in the evening to get the mail. Of late the ford has become dangerous and she was warned against crossing it She said she was aware of the danger and would cease the hazardous practice.

On Wednesday evening, however, she left her home as usual to go for the mail, and as it happened, to meet her death.

Her horse was discovered standing on the river bank by W. Crail, who at once took the animal to the Weithoff home and inquired if the young lady had returned. He was informed that she had not and that she had been absent only about twenty minutes.

The alarm was given and a search bogun which resulted in finding her body about a half a mile below the ford. It is thought the body was in the water about half an hour.

The deceased was a most estimable young lady, and was the pride and mainstay of her aged parents. Her father has been sick for a long time with heart trouble, and it is feared the shock will hasten his death.

THE COMING SESSION.

It Promises to be a Most Exciting One.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—The coming session of Congress promises to be one of the most exciting for many years. The fighting qualities developed at the extra session promises to increase during the regular session, and the public interest will probably be excited in an increased ratio as the session advances. There is a stormy prospect ahead, and many conflicting opinions and disagreements as to certain policies.

Speaker Crisp is expected Sunday, and probably most of the members who are now absent will be here then. Monday's session is expected to be very brief. The President's messsage will be received Monday, but it may be withheld until Tuesday, on account of the brevity of Monday's session. The message is expected to be of unusual length, and interesting on account of some radical features. The greater part of it will be devoted to the support of the Wilson tariff bill, but it is expected that it will contain recommendations for legislation affecting National banks. The advocates of the repeal of the State bank tax expect a favorable consideration of that question.

RAILROAD TROUBLES.

Northern Pacific Employes Will Not Accept a Reduction.

SPOKANE, Wash., December 2.—A meeting of the employes of the Northern Pacific was held at Sprague yesterday. It was a secret conference of some of the leaders of the several railway organizations, the members of which will be affected by the coming reduction in wages ordered by the receivers and effective Jannary 1st. Everything indicates that the Northern Pacific management will experience trouble in January, when the new schedule goes into effect.

The men in all the branches of the service affected by the new order declare that they will not accept the new schedule, and will strike if it is forced upon them.

Another meeting will be held to-morrow night by the employes of the Idaho division to co-operate with other divisions looking to the appointment of a Grievance Committee to go East to confer with the officials.

DRUNKEN TRAMPS.

They do Considerable Damage at Ashland.

ASHLAND, Oregon, December 2.—Seventy-six southward-bound tramps stopped in Ashland last night. A gang of about ten or a dozen of them were intoxicated on their arrival here and up to mischief. They lounged about Roberts & Powell's saloon, near the depot, until Tom Roberts ejected them. It was after midnight when they returned and began breaking windows and storming the building. Roberts was ready for them and when they refused to heed his warning to desist shot four times at them with a revolver. One man was hit in the abdomen and fell over, but got up again and was not seen afterward. Another was shot in the arm, but only slightly wounded. The latter with three others of the gang were arrested and kept in jail last night, but were turned loose again this morning. Constable Real also fired upon the gang that invaded his cellar, but no one was hurt.

Chinese Sneaking In.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., December 2.—Frank G. Pinson of Debrio has brought information here that a large number of Chinese have been coming into the United States from Mexico at a point a few miles below Debrio the past ten days. It is believed that there are several hundred Chinese in the immigration movement, and that they made their way up from Southern Mexico, where they were thrown out of employment on railroads and coffee plantations.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

La Grippe

"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

The Genoa Courier contains the following sensible item: If you buy flour imported from California, you send your money out of the State. On the other hand if you buy a Nevada brand of flour your money remains in this State, where it build's up the commonwealth, makes times better and business more prosperous, thereby increasing the value of your products and benefiting you. The Riverside Mills at Reno will buy Nevada wheat just in proportion to the amount of flour they are able to put on the market.

The singing was very good and made the service more interesting than is usual at the Army street meetings. UNDER THE DOME.

All Quite on the Lovely Potomac—Stewart Ready With a Free Silver Bill.

[By C. D. Van Duzer.]

Your correspondent has been wrestling with the grippe and malaria for the past twenty days. Those are twin evils and all who live in this beautiful city must sooner or later succumb to them. The month just passed has been exceedingly quiet, with nothing but the Hawaiian muddle to disturb political life.

The coming message of President Cleveland is looked forward to with greater interest than was ever before manifested in a presidential document. While his financial views were outlined by acts which left no doubt as to his intention, it is said that he will enunciate a few more historical platitudes which will go down in history with the rest of his "courageous conviction." Aside from the financial question the tariff policy and Hawaiian episode will be spoken of.

Congress will get to work at once on a tariff bill which will be ready when they meet. It will be a radical low tariff measure with little or no protection to the west. Lead, wool, wine and raisins along with all our other interests will be sacrificed. The bill will pass with the usual celerity that has marked the present Congress.

Senators Jones and Stewart are still in Washington. Senator Stewart is having renovated his beautiful residence, so long occupied by the Chinese legation. It is said that he is ready with a free silver bill to push to the front again, but any prospect of financial legislation during the next three years is exceedingly vague.

R. J. Jose, the sweet Nevada singer, recently appeared with Thatchers "Africa" company in this city, where he met with his usual reception and welcome. Dick is prospering and in the near future your correspondent will speak of matters which will be of interest to all his Reno friends. Dick intends to retire from the stage next year.

THE GREELEY STAGE.

In Which Hank Monk Drove the Philosopher to Placerville.

The stage in which Hank Monk drove Horace Greeley, the Tribune philosopher, to Placerville, will probably be one of the exhibits of the '49 Mining Camp, says the Carson Appeal. It is in Douglas county, that is, the bed, top and axles. The wheels are in Genoa, and it is proposed to get the old historic relic together and send it to the '49 camp at the Midwinter Fair.

Doc Benton has the gold watch presented to Monk after that memorable ride in which the famous Tribune editor was requested to keep his seat if he desired to reach Placerville on time.

No one vehicle in the United States has been more extensively advertised than this relic.

It made Hank Monk's name famous all over the world and it made Greeley temporarily ridiculous, so much so in fact that Greeley never forgave Hank for his joke, and years afterwards when Joe Goodman met Greeley in New York and pleasantly gave him Monk's regards the great editor broke forth in a torrent of profanity.

"Yes, that is the d—— —— — —— that made me ridiculous to the American people."

Doc Benton has a lot of relics of poor old Hank Monk which he has kindly placed at the disposal of the '49 camp, and offers to drive the stage with six fast horses over the same old Placerville road and right into the '49 camp.

The idea is to have fresh horses every ten miles as in the old days and send the animals through under the whip on the dead run to see if the old records cannot be broken.

The ranchers and horsemen on the line offer to furnish the relays of horses every five miles if necessary. The drive will be a memorable one, but the stage men say that the old wheels won't stand the run. If this is the case the old wheels will be placed on the top of the coach and new wheels used for the run.

The people along the route are enthusiastic over the proposed scheme and fancy prices are already being offered for seats on the stage by sagebrushers who would like to take the ride.

If there is no snow storm to prevent, the trip can be made, and if the snow is not too heavy the ranchers along the route offer to break the road and keep it clear.

SHERMAN AND HARTER.

Two Champions of Plutocracy Celebrate the Downfall of Silver.

Sherman—Well, Harter, old boy, we got the repeal bill through the Senate, but it was like pulling eye teeth to do it. Those Populists are fighters from away back. If they get many more such members as Stewart, Peffer, Jones and Allen, the Rothschilds will have to weaken.

Harter—You done well, but most of the credit is due to Grover Cleveland. The patronage club, when swung with such tremendous force as Grover used, will knock any measure through the Senate. Now, that we are firmly established on the gold basis, what course had we better pursue? The people must be humbugged or they will get restless and become unmanageable.

Sherman—Oh, there will be no more trouble with the people. The bondholders have issued their ultimatum, and the tariff will be the issue or 1896. McKinley and a high tariff will be the war cry of the Republicans, and a tariff for revenue will be the rallying cry of the Democratic wing of plutocracy.

Harter—I wish you would speak to McKinley and persuade him not to engage in any business outside of politics for if he does he will make another failure and his bondholding friends will have to pay his debts. He has committed several tariff speeches to memory and we could employ him to go on a declaiming tour out West. I would suggest that he spend several weeks in Idaho, Nevada and Colorado, and try and lead those States back into the Republican column. I think if the tariff question is properly presented to the voters of Nevada they will forget about their financial difficulties, and abandoned mines and engage in another old fashioned sanguinary conflict over the tariff.

Sherman—After we capture Nevada and win one more victory over the people, the bondholders will be so strongly intrenched that the voters will be their most willing tools. The masses will have to rustle to make a living; they won't have time to think. We can then send our missionaries among them to preach about the divine origin of slavery, and make them believe that they are all descendants of Ham, who must obey the divine commands to serve their more fortunate master.

Harter—The tariff seems to be the best friend the bondholders ever had, and, as you say, with a little missionary work I think the poor will become reconciled to their fate, and return thanks to an all-wise Providonce that the descendants of Ham are allowed to exist. FARMER.

DR. HOGAN'S LECTURE.

The Court-room Filled With Interested Listeners.

The District Court-room was crowded last evening with citizens who listened attentively to Dr. Hogan's lecture on political parties and the present financial condition of our country. Judge I. B. Marshall called the meeting to order promptly at 7 o'clock. T. V. Julien was elected chairman, and in a few happy remarks introduced the lecturer The Doctor spoke for nearly two hours and his remarks elicited the closest attention from beginning to end. So eager did all seem to catch the full force of every idea advanced by the Doctor, that perfect silence prevailed throughout the entire discourse, except when interrupted by applause.

The speaker first paid his attention to the two old parties and declared that "either was the other and both were neither;" that the leaders of both the old parties are owned, body and soul, by the money powers; that the man who casts a vote for either of the old parties, as now constituted, casts that vote for the enslavement of himself and his children. He declared that there is at this time but two political parties, the Democratic-Republican on the one side working in the interest of aggregated capital for the enslavement of the masses, and the Populists, striving by might and main to avert that evil and to restore in this fair land prosperity and liberty, the birthright of every American citizen. At the conclusion of the Doctor's discourse he was warmly congratulated by scores of his auditors.

The Palace Hotel, which is well and favorably known to every old Nevadan, is being conducted as usual by that veteran landlord Al White, who spares neither pains nor purse to provide for the convenience of guests.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting Held Yesterday—The Proceedings of the Board.

The annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture took place yesterday in the Secretary's office. There were present, President W. O. H. Martin, H. M. Yerington, M. D. Foley, T. K. Hymers, W. D. Phillips, C. H. Stoddard, Theodore Winters, W. S. Bailey, John R. Bradley and P. H. Mulcahy.

Governor Colcord, Hon. Evan Williams, J. A. Yerington and others also attended the meeting.

Secretary Stoddard read a report of the financial standing of the Society, showing that the deficit for the year amounts to $2,162 36, $800 of which was carried over from last year.

Following are the names of the officers of the Board elected for the ensuing term: W. O. H. Martin, President; C. H. Stoddard, Secretary, and R. S. Osburn, Treasurer. The names of the Executive Committee: Theodore Winters, C. C. Powning, W. O. H. Martin, M. D. Foley, T. K. Hymers, Joseph Marzen and H. M. Yerington.

T. K. Hymers was appointed Superintendent of the Fair Grounds and W. D. Phillips of the Pavilion. The Executive Committee were given full powers to manage and conduct the Midwinter Fair exhibit.

Mr. J. A. Yerington was appointed chief of the commission representing Nevada, to act in conjunction with Mr. Stoddard and Mr. Mulcahy, already appointed. A long discussion followed with regard to the best means of raising the money necessary, and the manner of its expenditure.

Mr. Yerington stated that there was left over from the Chicago exhibit about $500, which he would be responsible for to the State Treasurer at a future date and would use in defraying immediate expenses.

Mr. Foley moved that the Boards of County Commissioners throughout the State be requested to contribute such amounts as they can, the understanding being that all moneys loaned the commission will be returned through an appropriation by the next Legislature.

Mr. H. M. Yerington moved that the amount from the Legislature asked for be raised from $10,000 to $15,000. Carried.

After appointing the following committees to look after the sale of tickets and advertising of the Foote theatrical shows, the proceeds of which go toward the expenses of the exhibit, the Board adjourned: Carson, T. R. Hofer and Frank Steinmitz; Virginia City, W. E. Sharon, John Piper; Reno, C. H. Stoddard and M. D. Foley.

Unity Congregation—At the courthouse, R. A. and M. T. Maynard leaders. Service at 11 A. M.; subject: "Worthy and Unworthy Thankfulness." School after service. All are invited.

A Dozen Nevada Actors.

Oliver Roberts of Carson, commonly and affectionately known there as "Gillooley," was in town yesterday investigating the crop of Indians in this locality with a view to using their histrionic talents in enlivening the Midwinter Fair. He departed last evening for tidewater with a choice collection of twelve sons of the sagebrush, and after domesticating them in Sam Davis' '49 show will return for another consignment. They are expected to tomahawk and scalp frontiersmen every day in a realistic manner for the enlivenment of the spectators and to furnish items for Sam Davis' frontier newspaper.

Awarded Highest Honors at World's Fair.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder.

The only Pure Cream of Tartar Powder. —No Ammonia; No Alum.

Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.

THE HIGHEST AWARD.

Royal Baking Powder Has All the Honors—In Strength and Value 50 Per Cent. Above its Nearest Competitor.

The Royal Baking Powder has the enviable record of having received the highest award for articles of its class—greatest strength, purest ingredients, most perfectly combined—wherever exhibited in competition with others. In the exhibitions of former years, at the Centennial, at Paris, Vienna and at the various State and Industrial Fairs, where it has been exhibited, judges have invariably awarded the Royal Baking Powder the highest honors.

At the recent World's Fair the examinations for the taking powder awards were made by the experts of the chemical division of the Agricultural Department at Washington. The official report of the tests of the baking powders, which were made by this Department for the specific purpose of ascertaining which was the best, and which has been made public, shows the leavening strength of the Royal to be 160 cubic inches of carbonic gas per ounce of powder. Of the cream of tartar baking powders exhibited, the next highest in strength thus tested contained but 133 cubic inches of leavening gas. The other powders gave an average of 111. The Royal, therefore, was found of 20 per cent. greater leavening strength than its nearest competitor, and 44 per cent. above the average of all the other tests. Its superiority in other respects, however, in the quality of the food it makes as to fineness, delicacy and wholesomeness, could not be measured by figures.

It is these high qualities, known and appreciated by the women of the country for so many years, that have caused the sales of the Royal Baking Powder, as shown by statistics, to exceed the sale of the other powders combined.

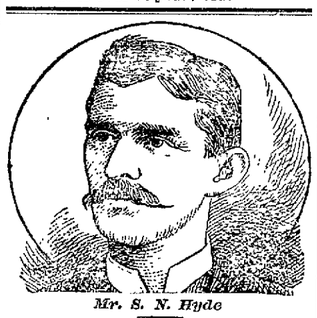

IN OLDEN TIMES

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transcient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

LaGrippe.

During the prevalence of the grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in affecting rapid cures of La Grippe, but in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial Bottles at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

A QUAINT CEREMONY.

A Wedding Which Was Conducted In Accordance With Quaker Rites.

At noon, in the prim meeting house of the Society of Friends at Rutherford place and Fifteenth street, Miss Elizabeth Willets and Dr. Samuel W. Lambert married themselves. No minister officiated, for none was needed. No prayers were said, and no music greeted their approach to the altar. Ceremony and display were lacking.

Half an hour before the ceremony was to take place the little meeting house was crowded to the walls. Three thousand invitations had been sent out, but only about 400 could gain entrance.

Everything had a subdued character—the pews painted in soft yellowish brown colors, the ceremony, the decorations and the people. No flowers were displayed, but the rostrum and the choir seats were banked with a mass of palms. Especially noticeable among the people were the young women, clad in soft colored cloth gowns, wearing big hats, which drooped in unexpected turns and crept out over their foreheads and had soft veils twisted about the brims, which shaded the eyes and the brows. These young women as they entered kept their eyes right toward the pews where they were going to sit. Scattered among the crowd pressing into the church came a few Friends dressed in their old time attire—wearing smooth black coats, with velvet faced standing collars and broad topped lapels, and broad crowned, wide brimmed black hats.

Miss Willets reached the church, accompanied by her father, shortly before noon. A few minutes later the ushers led the procession up the aisle. Following were the two bridesmaids. The bride advanced leaning on her father's arm. She wore a white satin gown trimmed with point lace and a tulle veil. The bridesmaids were attired in delicate green and white striped gowns, made with full skirts and adorned with black velvet bows.

The procession was received at the rostrum by Dr. Lambert and his best man and Dr. J. W. Markoe. Dr. Lambert advanced and took Miss Willets by the right hand. They stood facing each other, scarcely looking at their assembled friends, as Dr. Lambert said:

"In the presence of the Lord and these, my friends, I promise to take thee to be my wedded wife, promising through divine assistance to be a faithful and affectionate husband till death."

Then Miss Willets spoke a few hurried words, inaudible to the people. What she said was:

"In the presence of the Lord and my friends I promise to take thee to be my wedded husband, promising through divine assistance to be a faithful and affectionate wife until death."

No prayer was offered, but after a moment's pause Mr. Howard J. Wright, the white haired clerk of the meeting, unrolled a large certificate. Dr. and Mrs. Lambert walked a step or two to the left, where he was standing, and then seating himself in a chair Dr. Lambert signed his name to the certificate. Then Mrs. Lambert signed the document, writing not her maiden name, but her new name.

Then Mr. Wright stood up and read the certificate, which recounted that on the 21st day of October the two parties in the presence of witnesses had pledged themselves to be husband and wife. To this certificate is appended a list of witnesses giving testimony that the ceremony was performed. The marriage is recorded in the birth, marriage and death book of the society.—New York Letter.

HE PRIZES THE BANDAGE.

The Life of a Young Man Saved by the Petticoat of a Fair Texan.

Arthur Kauffman, a young Memphian who was in the wreck on the Wabash road, arrived home with his head bound up in a bloody white bandage, which he regards as his most precious possession. He says gold and jewels couldn't buy that strip of cloth. Kauffman says that when the collision came something hit him, and he lost consciousness. When he regained his senses, he was lying beside the wreck of the car, bleeding copiously from a deep cut on the head and unable to help himself. Just as he was about to faint again from weakness, an awfully pretty girl came up and spied him. She was Miss Taylor of Jefferson, Tex., who had escaped injury in the wreck.

She realized at once that the young man would bleed to death if not attended to. Without a moment's hesitation she whipped off her petticoat and tearing out a strip bound it tightly on Kauffman's head. The bleeding was checked and his life saved. To say that he feels deeply grateful to the fair Texan would be drawing it very mildly, and he vows he will keep the bandage as long as he lives.—Memphis Cor. St. Louis Republic.

Did the Queen Know?

Newspapers here recently announced with a great display of type that the queen had been graciously pleased to present many bottles of wine to various London hospitals for the use of poor patients. The same papers have carefully refrained from giving currency to the report published in reputable provincial journals to the effect that most of the wine in question was the refuse of the royal cellars and unfit for use in hospitals. It was in very bad condition. Many of the bottles were half empty, and others were so badly corked that the contents had turned sour. It is charitably suggested that her frugal majesty was ignorant of these defects.—New York Sun's London Letter.

His journey to America is for the purpose of investigating American agricultural economics. He has traveled largely in the west and believes that our farmers are overproducing wheat and that this course is also exhausting the soil.—Washington Dispatch.

FLOWER SUPERSTITIONS.

Maidens' Barometers For Divining the Depths of Their Sweethearts' Love.

It is singular to see how many meaningless ceremonies are now practiced by young women—ceremonies which were formerly used in earnest as love charms or incantations. Most of these have an amatory origin, and in connection with one or a few certain flowers are used, presumably as a means of foretelling the future. In several parts of New England when a young lady expects a visit from her lover she will pluck a marigold, take it in her hand when he arrives and carry it until the end of his visit, when from its fresh or faded condition she will judge of the strength of his affection.

A German girl, after having been called on by her lover, will put a star flower or dandelion in water and leave it there until his next visit, drawing an omen from its condition, while a Spanish maiden will take a moss rosebud, wear it on her breast, and if it expands to become a perfect flower the omen is considered exceedingly fortunate. A superstition of the same kind is shown by the East Indian maiden who places a poppy in her hair. In England the primrose is used for the same purpose, and in country districts of New England the spikes of the rib wort plantain are taken, wrapped in dock leaves, placed beneath a stone, and if the next day signs of new buds appear the omen is considered happy.

In France young ladies desirous of ascertaining the extent of a lover's affection take the common daisy and pull off its leaves one by one, with the question, "Does he love me? Does he love me little? Does he love me much? Does he love me with all his soul?" Marguerite in "Faust" uses the common blue bottle with similar questions. In England the ash leaf is sometimes employed to ascertain the faithfulness of an absent lover, and the Irish maiden learns of her future by putting a shamrock in her shoe, after which she walks abroad, and the first man she meets or one of his name will be her husband.—New York Advertiser

A Hair Splitting Bishop.

It is recorded of a certain hair splitting English bishop, who was accustomed to compose his "charges" in the train, and whose desk was always placed opposite to him, that he invariably treated it as though it were a living vis-a-vis. The train being very full on one occasion, a would be passenger inquired if this place was taken, and the bishop, with his sunniest smile, expressed regret that there was no room. "I don't think that was quite right, my lord," said one of his fellow passengers. "What was not right?" inquired his lordship urbanely. "To say that the place was taken." "Pardon me, I did not say that it was taken; I was particularly careful to use the word 'occupied.'"—San Francisco Argonaut

He Was a Senator.

Senator Allen of Nebraska is a big, burly man who looks like a prosperous dealer in live stock. Shortly after his arrival in Washington he was stopped at the door of the senate chamber by a new doorkeeper, who informed him that no one save senators was allowed on the floor. Mr. Allen smiled sadly, waved his hand and said: "Very well, sonny, I'm a senator. I don't look it, I know, but I am, just the same," and passed into the sacred precincts.—Chicago Herald.

"How is it your little baby sister goes to sleep as soon as your father takes her?"

Little Four-year-old—I 'spec' it's 'cause she'd rather do that than stay awake and hear him sing.—Beau Monde.

It covers a good deal of ground—Dr. Pierces Golden Medical Discovery. And when you hear that it cures so many diseases, perhaps you think "it's to good to be true."

But it is only reasonable. As a blood-clenser, flesh-builder, and strength-restores, nothing is like the "Discovery" is known to medcal science. The diseases that it cures come from a torpid liver, or from impure blood. For every thing of this nature, it is the only guaranteed remedy. In Dispepsia, Billiousness; all Bronchial, Throat and Lung affections; every form of Scrofula, even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages, and in the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases—if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
